

Did you know: Grey-headed flying-foxes are important to the environment because they pollinate plants and disperse seeds. However, their numbers are declining due to habitat clearing.

Name: Age: Phone/Email:

State of residence: Parent/Guardian signature: