24 September - 23 October 2022

Founded in 1909, the Australian Wildlife Society is a national not-for-profit wildlife conservation organisation who are dedicated to conserving Australian wildlife through national environmental education, public awareness, advocacy, hands-on wildlife conservation work, and community involvement.

This exhibition will convey the importance of wildlife preservation, promote the Society's work from its inception in 1909 to 2022, as well as take the viewer on a journey through time and the history of highlights in wildlife conservation.
