

Australian Wildlife Week Webinar Monday 3 October 2022 (AEST)
Speaker	Topic	Duration
President	Acknowledgement of Country, Welcome and Purpose, Format of Webinar, and Housekeeping	5min
Student Talk	Nicole Lynch, University of Sydney Spot the quoll: tactical use of olfactory information to improve detection and conservation of a rare, native carnivore	5min
Keynote NSW	Dr Jodi Rowley, Australian Museum, Australia's Amphibians	10min 5min Q's
Student Talk	Adam Yaney-Keller, Monash University Disentangling the long-term effects of marine debris on Australian fur seals	5min
Keynote QLD	Jennie Gilbert, Cairns Turtle Rehabilitation Centre, Marine turtles	10min 5min Q's
Student Talk	Erica Nolasco, Queensland University of Technology Social-ecological drivers and outcomes of conservation in private lands	5min
Keynote TAS	Greg Irons, Bonorong Wildlife Sanctuary, Conservation of Tasmanian Wildlife	10min 5min Q's
Student Talk	Nicholas Macdonald, Deakin University Investigation of the immune response of the Tasmanian devil (Sarcophilus harrisi) to cancer and altered environmental conditions	5min
Keynote VIC	Dirk Jansen, Mornington Peninsula Koala Conservation, Koalas	10min 5min Q's
Student Talk	Jaclyn Harris, Monash University Fire and Reptiles: An investigation into threatening processes and potential management solutions	5min
Keynote WA	Prof. Kevin Kenneally, Botanist and Biogeographer Kimberley monsoon rainforests: biodiversity and conservation challenges in remote areas	10min 5min Q's
Student Talk	Claire Butler, University of Tasmania Comparative effects of ocean warming on kelp-herbivore interactions on Australian temperate reefs	5min
Keynote NSW	Gary Dunnett, National Parks Association of NSW, Great Koala National Park	10min 5min Q's
Student Talk	Javiera Olivares-Rojas, Monash University What is required to recover Australian threatened ecosystems?	5min
President	Conclude/Thank you	5min