

Australian Wildlife Society

Wildlife Rehabilitation Award

Nomination Form

The Australian Wildlife Society Wildlife Rehabilitation Award will be awarded to an individual or a conservation group that is contributing to the preservation of Australia's wildlife. The Society is aware that many organisations and thousands of volunteers are working tirelessly to save Australia's wildlife and the habitat in which they live. Many people find the experience of rehabilitating native wildlife rewarding; however, it is time-consuming and can be very expensive. The award is intended to acknowledge and commemorate, on behalf of the whole community, individuals or conservation groups working tirelessly to support, rehabilitate and conserve Australia's native wildlife. The Society will present an award of $5,000 to the winning individual or small organisation that contributes to Australian wildlife conservation through rescue and rehabilitation. A trophy and certificate will accompany the award.

Persons may nominate their own organisation, or they may choose to nominate a third party who they believe should receive recognition. All nominations must be supported by a referee (see below).
